THE CARNIVAL.

There was a large attendance at the carnival last night, and the costumes were both artistic and amusing. The citizens band conducted by Robt. Hockley was in attendance and added greatly to the attractions of the evening. The following is a list of the costumes as far as it has been possible to procure them: Mrs. E. Looby, "Queen of Flowers." Miss Robertson, "Art Student." Miss Matheson, "Red Cross nurse." Misses Gracie Robertson, and May Matheson "German girls." Miss Ethel Matheson "Yum-yum," Miss Heimnick "Night." Miss Mary Heimnick, "Summer." Miss Rosa Bush, "Cook." Miss Pettipiece "Grace Darling." Miss Lauder, "Queen of hearts." Miss Jennie Lauder, "Mother Goose." Miss Maud Lauder, "Butterfly." Miss Clara Lauder, "Folly." Miss Cameron, "Huntress." Miss Oliver, "Summer girl." Miss Dora Oliver, "Hospital nurse." Miss S. Lendrum, "Little Bo Peep." Miss Edna Matheson, "Dolly Varden." Miss Hewitt, Miss S. Lendrum, "South Edmonton News." Mr. Saunders, "Sporting gent." Mr. T. Lauder, "N.W.M. Police." A Toronto dispatch says: The wholesale resignation of Canadian Methodist missionaries in Japan, as stated in this correspondence, is confirmed. Following that of Rev. Dr. Eby, comes that of Rev. Mr. Cassidy, who is here on furlough. The next mail brought from Japan the joint resignation of the six missionaries in that country because of the action of the mission board in its financial dealings with the missionaries. Dr. McDonald, who is practising his profession there, is now the only Canadian Methodist missionary in Japan.

Free Press: The condition of the working classes in Montreal seems to grow worse instead of better. At the best of times the numbers that have been attracted from the rural districts have tended to keep the price of labor at the lowest point, but it was thought that while the policy of protection was baneful to the country at large it would serve to keep Montreal, Toronto and a few other cities in a state of prosperity. But it fails even in that. Large bodies of men march to the city hall demanding work, declaring that they are in abject want and can wait no longer. Charitable persons are able to afford some relief, but the amount of destitution is far too great for them to cope with; and even the eighteen ministers at Ottawa are unable to devise a policy that will give bread to the masses, however much caviare and champagne it may give to the mill owners.

Francois Felix Faure, member of the chamber of deputies for Seine Inferieur, was elected president of France on Jan. 17th, in the place of Casimir Perier who had resigned the day before. The vote of the chamber of deputies was 430 Faure, 361 Brisson. On the first vote M. Brisson had 338 against Faure's 244, and Waldeck Rousseau 184. The socialists supported M. Brisson which caused the conservatives to unite on M. Faure. Both Faure and Brisson are moderate republicans, of the same party as the retiring president.

THE ELECTIONS.

All the indications points to a general election at an early date. Judging from recent expressions by the Lethbridge News and MacLeod Gazette the representation of Alberta in the past has not been altogether to the taste of the people at that end of the district. If Southern Alberta has reason to be dissatisfied Northern Alberta has much more reason to be. And yet Alberta has been represented by a consistent supporter of the government. One with whose party constancy no fault could be found. It is clear then that however much party constancy may be desired by the leaders of the party it is not the only qualification required when considered from the standpoint of the constituency. No doubt the adequate representation of such a large constituency as Alberta would be a severe tax on the abilities of the most able man; the more so when the widely different conditions prevailing in Northern and Southern Alberta are considered. On grounds of diversity of interest as well as population Alberta requires two representatives if it is to be adequately represented. But it is not likely that that division will be made so long as the constituency as a whole can be carried by a straight party man, and particularly as long as a party man can be found who will bear the whole expense, as was the case at the past two elections and as seems likely to be the case at the coming one. The larger the constituency the greater the advantage which the government candidate has in being backed by the party endorsement. The rank and file only care to know that he is the government's choice, while whoever opposes him must be under the disadvantage of being personally almost unknown throughout the greater part of such an immense constituency. If it were divided a local man in either division might have a wide enough reputation throughout that division to secure his election even in opposition to the straight government candidate. While everybody is talking of and many expecting a division the election is approaching and it would be wise for all those who take an interest in public affairs to consider that the chances are very much in favor of no division being made. Certainly unless there is a session of parliament before it is dissolved there can be no division, and the BULLETIN firmly believes that for the reasons above given, even if there were a session still there would be no division. If this is conceded the question naturally arises: What are the electors going to do about it, especially those who feel that justice has not been done this constituency in the past and who have very little hope of anything better from the government candidate or candidates already before the public. It is a matter of common report that one of these gentlemen has an unlimited bank account to draw upon for election purposes. With this advantage and the prestige of being the government candidate, he is in an excellent position to carry the constituency, although only a very small number of the people will agree that strict party representation has been good for us in the past or is likely to be good for us in the future. If it is a fact that the majority want a member who will represent the interests of his constituents instead of those of the government in parliament it is for that majority to take timely action, that will unite their at present scattered forces, so that they may be able to make their numbers tell on election day. There is no use in saying we want this, or we want that or the other thing if we do not take means to get it. If we want representation, it will cost some labor and pains between now and the day of election to get it. If we do not want it sufficiently to make us take intelligent action at the right time let us say nothing about it and admit that representative institutions are a mistake, or at least unnecessary, in this country.

On motion of Messrs. McCauley and Bellamy, F. Oliver was elected chairman for the year.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on Tuesday Feb. 5th.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

A special general meeting of the Edmonton board of trade was held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening at 7:30. There was a good attendance, the president John Cameron in the chair. The nominations of Messrs Andrews, Edmonton; Gairdner, St. Albert and Lindow, Fort Saskatchewan for membership were accepted.

On motion of Mr. Kirkpatrick, seconded by Mr. Lines, the by-law respecting nomination of officers, was amended so as to permit of nominations being made up to the time of taking the vote at the annual meeting to be held on Feb. 5th.

On a point raised by Mr. Woodworth and on motion of Mr. Emery seconded by Mr. Lines the by-laws were further amended to make it clear that the annual dues of a member must be paid before he is entitled to vote at the annual meeting.

Mr. Woodworth suggested that action be taken by the board to assist the agricultural society in procuring grounds and erecting buildings with a view of establishing at Edmonton an agricultural exhibition for Northern Alberta, instead of a merely local exhibition as at present.

Mr. McCauley suggested that a permanent exhibit of agricultural products would be of advantage to the district, and also gave notice of a motion for next meeting asking for the division of the present electoral district of Alberta into two electoral districts of North and South Alberta.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, ALBERTA.

The annual general meeting of our agricultural society was held on Friday, 18th inst., and it is pleasing to note that it was the largest meeting the society has ever had. The secretary treasurer's statement was audited and read and passed with pleasure, as, after after paying all prizes won, and current expenses, it would still leave some $60 in treasurer's hands. The following officers were elected for 1895: F. Fraser Tims, M. L. A., honorary president; James L. Porte, president; Wm. Walker and Hugh E. Irwin, vice presidents; A. Peebles, Gus. Doze, H. Lambert, R. Calvert, Alex. Adamson, Leon Moret, N. Lepage, W. D. Carson, P. Mohr, H. Byng, J. Atkinson, G. T. Montgomery, Wm. Clarke, R. Lindow, directors; John F. Forbes, secretary treasurer. It was decided to hold a spring stock show on 26th April. It was also unanimously carried that the directors be a committee to draw up and forward with as little delay as possible, a memorial, to the honorable the minister of the interior, calling his attention to the fact, and asking for relief, from the present state of affairs in Northern Alberta with reference to want of "railway communication with its direct market to the west and consequent high freight and passenger rates. Although the Canadian Pacific Railway has had possession of all the good land set aside for total construction of all railways in Northern Alberta, for several years, it is retarding settlement and welfare of the whole Saskatchewan valley and debarring other railway syndicates from building, &c., and that a copy of said memorial be sent the press for publication.

Showing the value of printers ink, the last two mails have been bringing enquiries from different parts of the United States and Canada, with reference to our town and country, owing to the illustrated write up in Winnipeg "Saturday Night," of last month. The Edmonton "Bulletin" is also another good medium, as enquiries keep coming in from the old country and United States, with reference to comments seen in it and advertisements of Northern Alberta.

The Calgary Herald is at loggerheads with the telegraph department of the C. P. R. and will boycott the grinding monopoly by not investing in any telegrams.

LACOMBE LINKS.

Mr. Fincham has a new blacksmith shop erected where the other was burned, a little over a week ago, and is again prepared to attend to the wants of his customers.

There was not a very large attendance at the regular meeting of the Royal Templars last Friday evening, but those present seemed to be pleased with the programme, being a debate. The subject was "Resolved that country life is more conducive to happiness than city life," those on the affirmative gaining the day. There is another debate expected for this week, and we hope for a larger attendance.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian congregation at Lacombe, was held in the school house, on Wednesday, 16th inst., at 8 p. m. The Rev. John Fernie presided, until the financial report came up for discussion, when, having asked Mr. Reid to take his place, he left the meeting. In regard to numbers, the past year, 1894, has showed marked and steady progress. On 31st Dec. 1893, there were on the roll of the congregation, seventeen members in full communion; while on 31st Dec. 1894, there were thirty-six. On 31st Dec. 1893, there were nine adherents connected with the congregation. On 31st Dec. 1894, there were so far as could be ascertained, at the very least, fifty-three, above fourteen years of age. During the past year, eighteen certificates have been handed in and one has just joined by profession, making a total of nineteen members added to the previous seventeen on the communion roll. With respect to families, there are, at least, forty-eight connected with the congregation. Ten of those have joined by certificate, during 1894. Ten infants and one adult, making a total of eleven, were baptised during the past year. There have been two deaths; one adult and one young girl. Before the business meeting commenced, a social under the auspices and management of the Ladies aid of the congregation was held. A goodly number partook of the delicacies provided; and happiness and smiling faces seemed general.

GENERAL NEWS.

Moose Jaw Times: Brandon farmers within a ten-mile radius of the city are making enquiries with a view to establishing a creamery next season. The Moose Jaw creamery last season received cream by train from a distance of thirty-five miles, and the patrons were well satisfied with the results.

The total trade returns of Canada for the half year ending Dec. 31, show a decline in the total foreign trade of over eleven million dollars. The decrease in imports is $9,321,000, and in exports $5,000,000. The total trade of last fiscal year ending June 30 shows a decline in the total trade of seven million dollars. Of goods entered for consumption there was a decline of over eight million dollars.

The first half of the fiscal year ending Dec. 31st, today's Official Gazette shows the financial returns up to that date, showing a falling off in the revenue of $1,619,000 and an increase in expenditure of $292,000 compared with the same period in 1933, or a total shortage for the half year of $2,208,000. At the same rate this will give a deficit for the year of over four million dollars.

Chas. Mithell and two other miners named Moore and McMillan, owners of the Eureka mine, while returning to the mine from Kaslo, B. C., were killed in a snow slide, ten miles from that town. Two miners working on the Silverton mine in the path of the slide are missing and there is no doubt they were killed. The mass of snow was 200 feet high and 200 yards long.

Mr. Tucker, patron of industry member for West Wellington, in the Ontario legislature has been unseated and disqualified. The election petition was tried before Justices Rose and McMahon. It was proved that Tucker threatened to withdraw his patronage from Mr. White, a Drayton grocerman, unless White supported him. Tucker carried out his threat, as White told him he had promised to vote for Allen. A case of treating at a hotel was also proven.

Free Press: It is learned that General Booth, of the Salvation Army, while in Manitoba was very favorably impressed with this province, and has it under consideration for his over the sea colony. The general was able to see many advantages which the Canadian Northwest presents as a field for settlement, and many more were brought to his attention by the local officers of the Army. The western states are making tempting offers for the Salvation colony, but Manitoba's chances are excellent. General Booth is now en route to the Dominion capital, and will there interview the government on the subject.

MacLeod Gazette: Lieut. T. Cochrane has declared himself as actually in the field for the representation of Alberta at the next election, and Mr. Jackson, of Calgary, is we are informed, now engaged stumping the country on Mr. Cochrane's behalf from Calgary south to High River. From remarks made by Mr. Cochrane during a recent visit here one would be led to suppose that this was tantamount to a decision on Mr. D. W. Davis' part that he had resolved not to seek re-election. In conversation with a Gazette representative, however, Mr. Davis declared that he had every intention, at present, of contesting the constituency.

The MacLeod Gazette has an editorial based on the recent dismissal of a constable from the police force for drunkenness, in pursuance of the policy of reducing the force. The Gazette says: It has been urged that, when Sinclair re-engaged the last time, it was with the expressed condition that, if he came up for the offence in question, he was to be dismissed. We submit that, whoever was responsible for imposing this condition, was guilty of a most unwarrantable piece of tyranny and bullying. Sinclair only wanted a few more years to entitle him to a pension, and he was forced either to submit to an unjust and arbitrary condition, or to forfeit all claim to it and leave the force under circumstances amounting practically to a dismissal for a crime which he had not committed. The action of the authorities in turning out Sinclair and others at this time of the year is not only everything else that has been said of it, but is positive cruelty. To turn these men loose in the depths of winter, penniless and shelterless and practically without clothes on their backs, when no work can be obtained, is the refinement of cruelty, and merits the censure and condemnation of every right thinking man. Another point of view from which to look at the matter is this. Canteens have been for some years established at several of the police posts, and it is far from improbable that, for some of the spree for which men are so terribly punished, the government are themselves directly responsible. In conclusion we would point out that the present vicious, unjust and despicable method of reducing the numbers of the force should be put a stop to without a moment's delay. If it were only the worthless members of the force who were so disposed of, there might be the least possible excuse for it, but it most frequently happens that the best men occasionally indulge a little too freely and to keep a helpless and useless man because he doesn't happen to have the nerve to get in to a little occasional trouble, and dismisses long service, valuable and efficient men because of a little spree, which in any other service would be punished by a few days confinement to barracks, is a criminal absurdity. Still urging our protest against the reduction of the force, we would venture the opinion that all warnings are disregarded, and the present intention is carried out, the necessary number of men would volunteer to take their discharge, and then the weeding out process could be gone on with. But whatever method is adopted, at least, as the Free Press correspondent suggests, let it be a legitimate and straight forward one.

HAWAIIAN REBELLION.

Bob Wilcox and Sam Nowlin led half a thousand Kanakas and half white royalists in open revolt against the Hawaiian republic on Sunday, Jan. 6th, on the shore six miles from this city. The rebels were foiled in their plan to surprise the city. A fight took place at Diamond Head between police and rebels, in which Charles L. Parker, a prominent young man, fell mortally wounded. When a strong force was sent out from this city the rebels retreated into the recesses of the volcano ridges. Several were killed by shot and shell. Many prisoners were taken, including John Lone, a half white, who shot Parker. On the 9th the troops attacked Wilcox and sixty of the enemy in a valley and routed them with a loss of two killed. None of the troops were injured. The insurrection is completely crushed and the rebels have entirely dispersed. The majority of the men have come in from the front. One hundred are still guarding the entrance to the valley and looking for Wilcox and his men. Nothing has been seen or heard of any rebels in the mountains for twenty-four hours. Wilcox's force, like Nowlin's has unquestionably Kalihl towards Ewa, and is seeking to get off the island. Military operations are probably at an end. The guarding of the city under martial law may be continued some days longer. The royalists were supplied with arms and ammunition from vessels. Grave alarm was caused at the same time by large bodies of Japanese laborers on plantations rising in mutiny.
